Num. 3174

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1744.

Vienna, April 25.

HE Person who was lately taken up here, upon Suspicion of carrying on treasonable Practices, persists steadily in the Support of his Innocence. He endeavours to account for the considerable Sums, in Ready Money, that were found in his Closet, by saying, That when he was dismissed from his Employment, he converted what little Effects he had into ready Money, with a View to make the most of it, by giving it out to Persons of Condition, that were sometimes straitened for Money for a short Time. His Wife, however, had less Courage; for, upon being shewn the Money, she confessed, that her Husband carried on an Intrigue with a certain General, formerly in the Austrian Service; and that he had likewise a constant Inter-ourse with Persons of Rank in Hungary, who sometimes came privately to Vienna, and visited him in the Night. She described one of them so perfectly, that he was immediately known by the Description, and was sent into Hungary for apprehending him; where he has been accordingly taken, and brought hither, in order to be confronted with this Colner. But when he was examined the next Day, after this Discovery of his Wife's, and threatened with the Torture, he persisted in denying the Fact with the utmost Steadiness, asserting, that his Wife was frightened into what she said, and that there was not a Word of Truth in it. He showed the like Firmness when under the Torture; and his Examination after it, tho' there is the strongest Reason to believe him guilty. There were several Plans, Lists of the Queen's Troops, found amongst his Papers; which, he pretended, came into his Hands when he was Paymaster; a Post he actually held some Years the Character of Envoy Extraordinary from this Republick, to propose a Scheme for restoring and fixing the Peace of Germany, as the most natural Introduction to restoring the general Tranquillity of Europe.

HOME PORTS.

Dover, May 2. Wind N. E. a strong Gale. Sailed hence the Dolphin, Donalson, for London; the Ashling, Duke, the Newport, Morris, and the Success, Locket, all for Ostend; and the Expedition, Smith, for Campvere. ## ARRIVED

At Carolina, the Anne and Mary, Hall from London.
At Ostend, the Desire, Rose, from Pool.

LONDON.

When the King of the Two Sicilies order'd three new-raisd Battalions to join the Army, one of them mutinied, and, like raw Soldiers, threw down their Arms; upon which they were presently surrounded by two Regiments of Dragoons, who carried them Prisoners to Capua, where, it is thought, they will be decimated.

They write from Groningen, that the most learned John Barbeyrac, Doctor in, and Professor of Law, at that University, died on the 23d of April last, in the 72d Year of his Age. His Reputation is too great, to need the feeble Assistance of a Character in a News Paper.

The Emperor caused great Rejoicings to be made at Franckfort, on the News of the French and Spaniards having forced the Retrenchments at Montalban, and made themselves Masters of the Town of Vilafraanca.

The Brig, —, Ball, from Topsham, for Maderia, with Corn, was taken by a Spanish Privateer, and carried into the Canaries.

The same Privateer also took a Pink from London, for Maderia and the West-Indies; but she was retaken by one of our Men of War, and sent to Maderia.

The Privateer Snow fitted out at Calais was to sail Yesterday. She is about 80 Tons, has 10 Carriage and 10 Swivel Guns, and about 90 Men. She is New-built, and was formerly a Schooner.

This Day a Court of Common-Council is summon'd to meet at Guildhall.

Last Wednesday came on, by Way of Ballot, the Choice of a Curate for St. Mary Woolnoth, in Lombard-street, void by the Resignation of the Rev. Mr. Withers. The following Gentlemen; viz. the Rev. Mr. Conell, Lecturer of St. George, in Southwark; the Rev. Mr. Morden, Lecturer of St. Mary at Hill; and the Rev. Mr. Waring, Morning Preacher at St. Antholin's; when, upon closing the Ballot, Mr. Conell was declared.

Yesterday ended the annual Election at Westminster School, when Eight of the senior Scholars, on the King's Foundation, were chosen to go to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

On Tuesday last the Races began at Epsom, in the County of Surrey; at which were present their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Lord Baltimore, and several of the Nobility, &c. when the Purse given by his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales was run for. Three Horses started, and it was won by Mr. Cornwells's.

On Wednesday four Horses started for the Plate of 50 l. which was won by Mr. Creswell's Grey Horse.

Yesterday being Holy Thursday, the Game was observed at Court as a high Festival; when the Knights Companions of the most Noble Order of the Garter, Thistle, and Bath, appeared in the Collars of their respective Orders.

Admiralty-Office, May 1, 1744.

THE Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do hereby direct, that the Petty Officers and Foremast Men late belonging to his Majesty's Ship the Rye, who have not yet repaired on board his Majesty's Ship the Striford, as Blackflakes, into which Ship they are turned over, do immediately go on board her; where they will be paid the Remainder of their Wages for the Rye, before the Striford proceeds to Sea; but in case they fail to repair on board that Ship, the Marshal of the Admiralty will be order'd to apprehend them, in order to their being tried at a Court Martial as Defectors, and punished with the utmost Severity of the Law.

Thomas Corbett.

Admiralty-Office, May 1, 1744.

WHEREAS several Able-bodied Landmen have voluntarily offer'd themselves to serve on board his Majesty's Ships fitting out for the Sea, and have each of them received One Shilling Prost Money, and a Ticket of Leave for a certain Number of Days to prepare themselves for going-a-board; notwithstanding which, many do absent themselves, and give Cause to suspect they do not intend to come into the Service; The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do hereby warn and advise them, forthwith to go on board the Ships they enter'd for, or else on board some other of his Majesty's Ships; for, as by their receiving One Shilling Prost Money, they are enlisted into his Majesty's Sea Service, the Marshal of the Admiralty will be directed to search after, and apprehend such, as do not fulfil their Engagements, in order to their being tried at a Court Martial as Defectors.

Tho. Corbett.

Where may be had,

I. The Works of Tacitus. Translated into English. To which are prefixed, Political Discourses upon that Author. The Second Edition. In Four Volumes, 8vo.

II. The Independent Whig; Or, A Defence of Primitive Christianity, and of our Ecclesiastical Establishment, against the exorbitant Claims and Encroachments of Fanatical and Dissaffected Clergymen. The Seventh Edition. In Three Volumes, 12mo.

III. Caro's Letters. Or, Essays on Liberty, Civil and Religious, and other important Subjects. The Fourth Edition. In Four Volumes, 12mo.

Nuremberg, April 23. The States of the Circle of Rhenia will speedily assemble here. All the Imperial troops in our Neighbourhood, as well as those of the King of Hungary, are in Motion; and several Bodies of them have passed each other, without infringing at the Neutrality of the Circle. We are assured, that the French intend to join the Imperialists with near 1000 Men, in order to march into Bavaria, while the King of Hungary's Troops are fully employed in Flanders, and on the Rhine. We have certain Advice, that considerable Sums of Money have been remitted from France into the North, for what Purposes, we cannot yet determine.

Paris, April 2. His Majesty arrived here on Tuesday, and gave a long Audience to M. Bauschiff, the new Minister from Russia. Within these few Days his Majesty declared to the Earl of Hyndford, that he was only ready to fulfil his Engagements to the King of Great-Britain, but even to exceed them, if it appeared that the King of France was the Aggressor; and seems to be a Point so easy to be proved, that nobody doubts of his Majesty's sending a considerable Body of Troops to cover the Electorate of Hanover.

Paris, May 1. When his Majesty went to the Army, he travelled in his Berlin, drawn by eight Grey Horses; and with him M. d'Argenson, the Duke d'Ayen, and Marquis de Mesle. This Berlin was followed by another drawn by six Horses, in which were the Chaplain, the first Physician, M. de Chiconneau; his Majesty's first Surgeon, M. de la Perronnie; and an Apothecary. It is a Point settled, that after a short Stay with the Army in Flanders, his Majesty will set out for the Rhine. According to the Account published by the Court of the late Affair in Piedmont, Admiral Matthews, and his principal Officers, were Eye-witnesses of the Action, without being able to afford their Friends any other Assistance, than receiving them aboard their Ships, after they had abandoned their Regiment. We talk of sending the Prince of Conti a reinforcement of 10,000 Men.

Extract from a Private Letter, dated May 7.

It is now very clear, that the French are quite mistaken in the Notions they entertained of being able to render our fourth Augmentation. Those who were formerly suspected of being inclined to them, from their Concern for Peace, are now to redeem their Reputation more violent, than ever the opposite Party were, in taking Measures for raising the Military and Naval Forces of the Republick to the greatest Height. We have lately named M. T. d'Ayiva, Deputy from the States of Freiland, to go to the Court of Prussia, with
